THE following Rules are published for general information.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 25th June 1895.

Revised Rules for the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses attending the Criminal Courts.

UNDER the provisions of section 544 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act X of 1882), the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has, with the sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General of India in Council, been pleased to prescribe the following revised rules for regulating the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses in cases coming before the criminal courts.

2. The criminal courts are authorized to pay, at the rates specified below, the expenses (a) of complainants or witnesses, whether for the prosecution or for the defence (1) in cases in which the prosecution is instituted, or carried on by, or under the orders, or with the sanction, of the Government, or any Judge, Magistrate, or other public officer, or in which it shall appear to the presiding officer to be directly in furtherance of the interests of the public service; and (2) in all cases entered in column 5 of schedule II appended to the Criminal Procedure Code, as not bailable; and (b) of witnesses in all cases in which they are compelled by the Magistrate of his own motion to attend under the provisions of section 540 of the Code.

3. If a witness is summoned at the instance of the complainant or accused under section 244, his expenses shall not be withheld from him except on the ground of failure to do his duty as a witness when summoned.

4. As a general rule, the allowances to be paid to complainants and witnesses shall be a diet allowance calculated at the following rates:—

- (a) For the ordinary labouring class of natives, 2 annas per diem.
- (b) For natives of higher rank in life, 4 annas per diem.
- (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, a diet allowance according to circumstances up to a limit of Rs. 3 per diem.

5. In addition to the above, charges for toll at ferries will be allowed at the authorized rates to the extent to which they may have been actually incurred.

6. Other travelling expenses will be given only when the journey could not have been performed on foot, or in the case of persons whose age, position, and habits of life render it impossible for them to walk. In such cases, in addition to diet allowance and ferry tolls, travelling allowance shall be given at the following rates:—

- (1) When the journey is by rapid dák by road, the actual expenses incurred up to a maximum limit of 4 annas a mile.
- (2) When the journey is, wholly or partly, by rail—
 - (a) For the ordinary class of natives, third class railway fare.
 - (b) For natives of higher rank in life, intermediate class railway fare; except in the case of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, where second class railway fare may be allowed.
 - (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, second class railway fare.

(3) In the Eastern Districts of Bengal, where the only mode of travelling is by water, the actual expenses incurred for boat-hire up to a limit of Rs. 2 per diem.

7. Notwithstanding the above rules—

- (1) Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their public capacity shall receive nothing from the Court. In this case they are entitled to travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations. Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their private capacity may be paid by the Court and may retain any travelling allowance due to persons of corresponding rank under these rules, but no diet allowance, and they shall not be entitled to any travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations.

- (2) To witnesses following any profession, such as Medicine or Law, a special allowance shall be given according to circumstances.

8. Officers will be held responsible that parties of witnesses are brought to court together as far as possible, so as to save expense. The hire of more than one boat shall not be allowed in one case, unless the presiding officer is satisfied that the witnesses could not have arranged to come together.

9. The number of days for which diet allowance should be granted will be determined by the officer ordering payment in each case.

10. For this purpose and for regulating the reimbursement of tolls paid, a table shall be prepared and kept in each court, showing the distance of each thana from the Sadar station and subordinate stations, the number of intermediate ferries to be crossed, and the authorized rates of charges for tolls at each of these ferries, the existence or absence of roads or waterways being also noted in the table.

The above rules are issued in supersession of all existing rules, and cancel Judicial Department circulars—

- (1) No. 24, dated 12th April 1877.
- (2) No. 16J.D., dated 21st May 1884.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India. By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI, (which will consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

THE following Rules are published for general information.

H. J. S. COTTON,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 25th June 1895.

Revised Rules for the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses attending the Criminal Courts.

UNDER the provisions of section 544 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act X of 1882), the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has, with the sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General of India in Council, been pleased to prescribe the following revised rules for regulating the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses in cases coming before the criminal courts.

2. The criminal courts are authorized to pay, at the rates specified below, the expenses (a) of complainants or witnesses, whether for the prosecution or for the defence (1) in cases in which the prosecution is instituted, or carried on by, or under the orders, or with the sanction, of the Government, or any Judge, Magistrate, or other public officer, or in which it shall appear to the presiding officer to be directly in furtherance of the interests of the public service; and (2) in all cases entered in column 5 of schedule II appended to the Criminal Procedure Code, as not bailable; and (b) of witnesses in all cases in which they are compelled by the Magistrate of his own motion to attend under the provisions of section 540 of the Code.

3. If a witness is summoned at the instance of the complainant or accused under section 244, his expenses shall not be withheld from him except on the ground of failure to do his duty as a witness when summoned.

4. As a general rule, the allowances to be paid to complainants and witnesses shall be a diet allowance calculated at the following rates:—

- (a) For the ordinary labouring class of natives, 2 annas per diem.
- (b) For natives of higher rank in life, 4 annas per diem.
- (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, a diet allowance according to circumstances up to a limit of Rs. 3 per diem.

5. In addition to the above, charges for toll at ferries will be allowed at the authorized rates to the extent to which they may have been actually incurred.

6. Other travelling expenses will be given only when the journey could not have been performed on foot, or in the case of persons whose age, position, and habits of life render it impossible for them to walk. In such cases, in addition to diet allowance and ferry tolls, travelling allowance shall be given at the following rates:—

- (1) When the journey is by rapid dák by road, the actual expenses incurred up to a maximum limit of 4 annas a mile.
- (2) When the journey is, wholly or partly, by rail—
 - (a) For the ordinary class of natives, third class railway fare.
 - (b) For natives of higher rank in life, intermediate class railway fare; except in the case of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, where second class railway fare may be allowed.
 - (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, second class railway fare.
- (3) In the Eastern Districts of Bengal, where the only mode of travelling is by water, the actual expenses incurred for boat-hire up to a limit of Rs. 2 per diem.

7. Notwithstanding the above rules—

- (1) Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their public capacity shall receive nothing from the Court. In this case they are entitled to travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations. Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their private capacity may be paid by the Court and may retain any travelling allowance due to persons of corresponding rank under these rules, but no diet allowance, and they shall not be entitled to any travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations.
- (2) To witnesses following any profession, such as Medicine or Law, a special allowance shall be given according to circumstances.

8. Officers will be held responsible that parties of witnesses are brought to court together as far as possible, so as to save expense. The hire of more than one boat shall not be allowed in one case, unless the presiding officer is satisfied that the witnesses could not have arranged to come together.

9. The number of days for which diet allowance should be granted will be determined by the officer ordering payment in each case.

10. For this purpose and for regulating the reimbursement of tolls paid, a table shall be prepared and kept in each court, showing the distance of each thana from the Sadar station and subordinate stations, the number of intermediate ferries to be crossed, and the authorized rates of charges for tolls at each of these ferries, the existence or absence of roads or waterways being also noted in the table.

The above rules are issued in supersession of all existing rules, and cancel Judicial Department circulars.—

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Act XVI of 1869 is a special Act in force in the Western Duars, and was passed with the objects of excluding the ordinary Civil Courts from the cognizance of suits relating to immoveable property, revenue and rent in the territory ceded by the Government of Bhutan to the British Government in 1866, and of allowing such matters to be dealt with under rules framed by Government and attached to the Act. It has long been felt that the time had passed when such an Act was adequate to the wants of a large and growing population, but it was thought better to wait till the settlement of the Western Duars should be completed, as the rules provided a convenient procedure for carrying out that operation. On its completion the Lieutenant-Governor applied to the Government of India for permission to repeal Act XVI of 1869. This has been accorded, and the object of this Bill is to carry out this intention.

Provided always that nothing herein shall authorise or empower the undertakers to lay down or place any electric line or other works, into, through or against any building, or in any land, not dedicated to public use, without the consent of the owners and occupiers thereof; except that the undertakers may at any time enter upon and lay or place any new electric line in the place of an existing electric line in any land wherein any electric line has been already lawfully laid down or placed, and may repair or alter any electric line so laid down.

7. Before the undertakers proceed to open or break up any street, bridge, sewer, drain or tunnel, they shall give to the local authority, company or persons under whose control or management the same may be, or to their clerk, surveyor, or other officer notice in writing of their intention to open or break up the same not less than three clear days before the date upon which they propose beginning such work, except in cases of emergency arising from defects in any of the electric lines or other

8. Provided always that if the local authority, company or person having such control or management as aforesaid, or their officer, fail to attend at the time fixed for the opening of any street, bridge, sewer, drain or tunnel, after having had such notice of the undertakers' intention as aforesaid, or shall not propose any plan for breaking up or opening the same, or shall refuse or neglect to superintend the operation, the undertakers may perform the work specified in such notice without the superintendence of such local authority, company or person, or their officer.

9. When the undertakers open or break up the road or pavement of any street or bridge, or any sewer, drain or tunnel, they shall, with all convenient speed, complete the work for which the same shall be broken up, and fill in the ground and reinstate and make good the road or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel so opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned thereby, and shall at all times, whilst any such road or pavement shall be so opened or broken up, cause the same to be fenced and guarded, and shall cause a light sufficient for the warning of passengers to be set up and maintained against or near such road or pavement where the same shall be open or broken up every night during which the same shall be continued, open or broken up, and shall keep the road or pavement which has been so broken up in good repair for three months after replacing and making good the same, and for such further time, if any, not being more than twelve months in the whole, as the soil so broken up shall continue to subside.

10. If the undertakers open or break up any street or bridge, or any sewer, drain or tunnel, without giving such notice as aforesaid, or at a time or in a manner different from that which shall have been approved of or determined as aforesaid, or without making such temporary or other works as aforesaid when so required, except in the cases in which the undertakers are hereby authorised to perform such works without any superintendence or notice, or if the undertakers make any delay in completing any such works, or in filling in the ground, or reinstating and making good the road or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel, so opened or broken up, or in carrying away the rubbish occasioned thereby, or if they neglect to cause the place where such road or pavement has been broken up to be fenced, guarded and lighted, or neglect to keep the road or pavement in repair for the space of three months next after the same is made good, or such further time as aforesaid, they shall forfeit to the persons having the control or management of the street, bridge, sewer, drain or tunnel, in respect of which such default is made, a sum not exceeding fifty rupees for every such offence, and they shall forfeit an additional sum not exceeding fifty rupees for each day during which any such delay as aforesaid shall continue after they shall have received notice thereof.

11. If any such delay or omission as aforesaid take place, the local authority, company or person having the control or management of the street, bridge, sewer, drain or tunnel in respect of which such delay or omission shall take place, may cause the work so delayed or omitted to be executed, and the expense of executing the same shall be repaid to such person by the undertakers.

12. Nothing in this Act shall authorise or empower the undertakers to break up any street, railway or tramway without the consent of the authority, company, or person, by whom such street, railway or tramway is repairable, unless in pursuance of special powers in that behalf inserted in the license or with the written consent of the Local Government; and the Local Government shall not in any case insert any such special powers in any license or give any such consent until notice has been given to such authority, company or person, by advertisement or otherwise as the Local Government may direct, and an opportunity has been given to such authority, company or person to state any objections they may have thereto.

13. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, the undertakers shall not be authorised to place any electric line above ground, along, over, or across any street without the express consent of the Local Government, and the Local Government may require the undertakers to forthwith remove any electric line placed by them contrary to the provisions of this section, or may cause the same to be removed and recover the expenses of such removal from the undertakers in manner hereinafter specified; and where any electric line has been placed above ground by the undertakers in any position, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, upon complaint made, if of opinion that such electric line is, or is likely to become, dangerous to the public safety, may, notwithstanding any such consent as aforesaid, make an order directing and authorising the removal of such electric line by such person and upon such terms as such Magistrate may think fit.

14. Subject to the provisions of this Act and of the license authorising them to supply electricity, the undertakers may alter the position of any pipes or wires being under any street or place authorised to be broken up by them which may interfere with the exercise of their powers under this Act on previously making or securing such compensation to the owners of such pipes or wires, and on complying with such conditions as to the mode of making such alterations as may before the commencement of such alterations be agreed upon between the undertakers and owners, or in case of difference as may be determined in manner prescribed by the license authorising the undertakers to supply electricity, or when no such manner is prescribed as may be determined by arbitration, and any local or other public authority, company or person may, in like manner, alter the position of any electric lines or works of the undertakers, being under any such street or place as aforesaid which may interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in such local or other public authority, company or person in relation to such street or place, subject to the like provisions, conditions and restrictions as are in this section contained with reference to the alteration of the position of any pipes or wires by the undertakers.

16. The undertakers shall not be entitled to prescribe any special form of lamp or burner to be used by any consumer, or in any way to control or interfere with the manner in which electricity supplied by them under this Act and any license is used:

Provided always that no consumer shall be at liberty to use any form of lamp or burner, or to use the electricity supplied to him for any purpose, or to deal with it in any manner, so as to unduly or improperly interfere with the supply of electricity supplied to any other consumer by the undertakers, and if any dispute or difference arises between the undertakers and any consumer as to the matters aforesaid, such dispute or difference shall be determined by arbitration:

Provided also that no lamps or electric fittings shall be added or reduced without due notice being given to the undertakers to enable them to inspect the wires and make such alterations as shall be absolutely necessary.

19. If any local authority, company or person neglect to pay any charge for electricity or any other sum due from them to the undertakers in respect of the supply of electricity to such local authority, company or person, the undertakers may cut off such supply, and for that purpose may cut or disconnect any electric line or other work through which electricity may be supplied, and may, until such charge or other sum, together with any expenses incurred by the undertakers in cutting off such supply of electricity as aforesaid, are fully paid, but no longer, discontinue the supply of electricity to such local authority, company or person.

20. If any person supplied with electricity or with any electrical meter or fittings by the undertakers, neglects to pay to the undertakers the rent due for such electricity, or the rent or money due to the undertakers for the hire or fixing of such meter, or any expenses lawfully incurred by the undertakers in cutting off the electricity from the premises of such person, the undertakers may recover the sum so due with full costs of suit in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

21. In case any consumer of electricity supplied by the undertakers leaves the premises where such electricity has been supplied to him, without paying the electricity rent, or meter rent due from him, the undertakers shall not be entitled to require from the next tenant of such premises the payment of the arrears left unpaid by the former tenant, unless such incoming tenant has undertaken with the former tenant to pay or exonerate him from the payment of such arrears.

22. Any person duly authorised by the undertakers may at all reasonable times enter any premises to which electricity is or has been supplied by the undertakers, in order to inspect the electric lines, meters, accumulators, fittings, works and apparatus for the supply of electricity belonging to the undertakers, and for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity of electricity consumed or supplied, or where a supply of electricity is no longer required, or where the undertakers are authorised to take away and cut off the supply of electricity from any premises for the purpose

Any difference which arises between the telegraph authority and the undertakers or their agents, with respect to any requirements so made, shall be determined by the Local Government, and the order of the Local Government shall be final.

(3) In the event of any contravention of, or wilful non-compliance with, this section by the undertakers or their agents, the undertakers shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees for every day during which such contravention or non-compliance continues, or if the telegraphic communication is wilfully interrupted, not exceeding five hundred rupees for every day on which such interruption continues:

Provided that nothing in this section shall subject the undertakers or their agents to a fine under this section, if they satisfy the Court trying the case that the immediate execution of the work was required to avoid an accident, or otherwise was a work of emergency, and that they forthwith served on the telegraph authority a notice of the execution of the work, stating the reason for executing the same without previous notice.

(4) For the purposes of this section a telegraphic line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected by a work if telegraphic communication by means of such line is, whether through intention or otherwise, in any manner affected by such work, or by any use made of such work.

Power to extend Act to Howrah.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Government has at present no power to grant a license or provisional order for the supply of electricity. The Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, under which licenses have been granted to Telephone Companies, deals only with appliances for making communications by means of electricity. Act No. XIII of 1887 is an Act to provide for the protection of person and property from the risks incident to the supply and use of electricity, but it does not provide for the grant of licenses. Nor does it provide for many other matters which are essential for the protection of undertakers from undue interference or restraint and the public from excessive charges and undue preference. These matters cannot be satisfactorily arranged without legislation. It is necessary to provide by legislation that those who undertake to supply electricity and cannot do so without overriding public and local rights, shall be enabled to do so under certain conditions and subject to legislative restrictions.

The object of the present Bill is to enable the Government of Bengal to grant licenses for the supply of electricity within any part of Calcutta. The Bill closely follows the Electric Act of 1882 (44 and 45 Vict., Chap. 56), but as it is intended to empower the Local Government to grant licenses only, every reference to "provisional orders" and "special Acts" has been omitted. The Local Government is substituted for the Board of Trade throughout. The definition of Calcutta is taken from the Calcutta Municipal Act of 1884, but power is given in the Bill for extending its provisions to the Howrah Municipality. The necessary power for breaking up streets, &c., for the purpose of supplying electricity within the area specified in the license have been adopted for the most part from the Gas Works Clauses Act of 1871.

No. VIII OF 1895.

THE following Bill was introduced, read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations, and referred to a Select Committee, on the 6th July, 1895, and is hereby published, with the Statement of Objects and Reasons, for general information:—

A Bill to further amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.

Whereas it is expedient to further amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890;
Preamble. It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.

(2) It shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette, with the assent of the Governor-General.

2. In sub-section (2), section 35, and in Amendment of sections sections 105 and 126, for 35, 105 and 126. the word "tramways," wherever it occurs, the word "railways" shall be substituted.

3. After section 66, the following sections shall be inserted:—

"66A. Whenever any land belonging to the Commissioners is let out to tenants who erect any building or structure thereon, the annual value of such building or structure, when erected, shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 122 of the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888, quite irrespective of the value of the land on which it stands. The entire consolidated rate in respect of such building or structure payable to the Corporation of Calcutta shall be paid by the owner thereof in accordance with the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act; and for the recovery of such sum the Commissioners of Calcutta shall have all such and the same remedies, powers, rights and authorities as they possess under the Municipal Act.

"66B. Whenever a rate is imposed under the last preceding section upon any building or structure erected on land belonging to the Commissioners, the Commissioners may recover from the owner of the structure half the consolidated rate paid by them for the land on which the structure stands. For the purpose of recovering such rate the Commissioners shall have the same remedies, powers, rights and authorities as if such rate were rent payable to them."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Port Commissioners of Calcutta are possessed of a large amount of land adjoining their foreshore, which they have leased out, and upon which the lessees have erected shops, warehouses and tiled huts. This land, having been valued and assessed under section 59 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, cannot be revalued or re-assessed, and the buildings thereon cannot be valued or assessed under the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888. The lessees therefore escape assessment to municipal taxation in respect of these buildings. The Bill adds to the Calcutta Port Act sections enabling the annual value of the buildings and the consolidated rate payable to the Corporation of Calcutta in respect of them to be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 122 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1888, and recovered by the Corporation under that Act. The Port Commissioners are also enabled to recover from the owners of the buildings half the consolidated rate paid by the Commissioners to the Corporation of Calcutta for the land on which they stand.

The opportunity has been taken to amend section 35 (2) and sections 105 and 126 of the Act which only empower the Commissioners to construct "Tramways," although, so long ago as 1880, a notification was issued by the Government of India under the Indian Railway Act of 1879, sanctioning the use of locomotive engines on "the railway belonging to the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta."

THE following rules framed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under section 100 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, with the approval of Government, are published for general information:—

OPERATIONS ON GOODS IN A WAREHOUSE.

1. Before any operation is performed in a warehouse, an application, stating the exact nature of the proposed operation, must be made to the Collector of Customs.
2. The officer of Customs deputed will compare the marks in the application with those on the goods and, where necessary, ascertain the actual quantity of the goods prior to the operation and record the same.
3. When the operation is completed, the officer will ascertain the quantities, if necessary, and record and sign the new account of the goods.

Racking and ridding.

4. Racking from cask to cask may be performed in a warehouse, and casks in bad condition may have their contents racked out into sound casks.
5. Empty casks must be properly drained before removal from a warehouse.
6. The operation of putting wines or spirits together in a vat may only be performed in a compartment of a warehouse fitted and used for that purpose only, unless the vat is a close covered vessel which has been accurately gauged, and of which the hatch and discharge cock can be secured by locks, the keys of which will remain with the bonding department.
7. Vats must be distinctly marked with their numbers and capacity in gallons. The strength of spirits taken from a vat is to be ascertained by a sample from each cask.
8. After any spirits have been racked from a vat, the remainder must be drawn off before any more spirits are put into the vat.

Blending rules.

9. Applications for permission to the blending of spirits or wines in bond in the same warehouse are to be presented to the Collector of Customs.
10. Each application must contain a full description of the spirits or wines to be mixed, and must be accompanied by a fee at the rate of Rs. 7 per diem, to be paid by an officer of Customs, to be deputed by the Collector, in whose presence the blending must be effected. The Collector may at his discretion accept the fee for his services on the above

11. The amount of liquor drawn from each cask for the purpose of blending will be shown as cleared on the original bond. If any deficiency be found on emptying a cask, duty thereon will at once be levied under section 116, but allowance under section 117 for such deficiency or any portion of it may be subsequently made by the Chief Customs Authority if sufficient grounds exist.

12. The blend, when effected, will be retested and regauged, and a fresh bond will be made out for the duty found leviable thereon.

13. For the purpose of calculating the period of three years under section 103, and the allowances for ullage and wastage under section 116, the date of the new bond will be taken to be the date on which the earliest of the bonds relating to any of the spirits in the blend was executed.

14. The spirits or wines blended must be the produce and manufacture of the same country.

15. The word "blend" must be cut into or indelibly marked on the vat or cask containing the blended spirits or wines. Original marks and brands must be removed, unless all the spirits or wines be of the same mark.

16. Wines and spirits may only be bottled from casks in a bottling warehouse. No other operation may be performed in such warehouse at the same time.

17. Wines and spirits intended for bottling must be removed from the warehouse to a bottling warehouse in presence of a Customs Officer.

18. Bottles must be packed immediately after filling. Each package must contain a dozen or multiple of a dozen of quarts or pints, and the bottles in each package must be of uniform size.

19. The officer deputed must record in his bottling book the number of bottles filled before they are packed: the bottles must then be packed without unnecessary delay. The officer is to satisfy himself that the proper number of bottles are placed in each case, and see that packed cases are at once closed and fastened.

20. The bonding officer will have the key of the door of the bottling warehouse.

21. The officer must see that in the labelling and corking of bottles, the provisions of the Merchandise Marks Act are observed.

22. Wines and spirits in bottle may, if it be necessary, be started into casks.

23. Wines and spirits imported in cases may, if it be necessary, be adjusted and re-packed, but not more than once while in bond. Labels and capsules may be renewed, but not changed for others not identical in terms.

24. Spirits may be methylated in a warehouse. The spirits are to be gauged and the strength ascertained prior to the operation: deficiency not exceeding legal allowance may be written off.

25. After methylation a sample must be drawn off and sent for the usual report to the Chemical Examiner.

The notification dated 10th December 1892 and published at page 1109, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th idem, is hereby cancelled.

N.B.—All applications under the above rules must, under Schedule II, 1(a) of the Court Fees Act, bear a stamp of one anna.

The 11th July 1895.

Offg. Secretary.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 11th July 1895.

No. 95 Marine.—The following Resolution of the Government of India, setting forth certain alterations which it is proposed to make in the existing law for regulating the pilgrim traffic by sea between British India and Arabia, is published for general information:—

RESOLUTION.

In the beginning of 1894 an International Sanitary Conference was convened at Paris to consider especially the best means of preventing the spread of cholera westwards by way of the Red Sea and Persian Gulf. The British Government accepted an invitation to join in its deliberations, and a Convention drawn up by the Conference in April 1894 was accepted by Her Majesty's Government, with reservations upon three points (to be mentioned below). The agreement is binding for five years, and is to be renewed unless notice of withdrawal is given six months before the end of that period.

As the provisions of the Convention were intended directly to affect the pilgrim traffic by sea between British India and Arabia, it became necessary to consider what amendments should be made in the law by which that traffic is at present controlled. The Government of India have been in communication with Her Majesty's Secretary of State and the Local Maritime Governments as to the best way of giving effect to these provisions, some of which introduce considerable changes into the existing arrangements. It has eventually been decided that the course which may most conveniently be adopted in all the circumstances of the case, is to remove from the operation of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, vessels engaged in the pilgrim traffic and to provide for them separately. A Bill drawn with that object is about to be introduced in the Council of the Governor-General for making Laws and Regulations, and rules aimed at carrying out all needed changes in the regulations are now being prepared and are intended to be brought into force under and simultaneously with the new law. Meanwhile the Governor-General in Council is desirous of taking this opportunity of placing before the public as early as possible full information regarding the impending changes, which are in some respects of considerable importance, and which will, it is expected, be in force in time to regulate the pilgrimage to the Hajj of the year 1896.

2. The following are the matters in which changes have to be made by legislation :—

(i) The definition of a "pilgrim ship."

By section 5 (2) of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, a passenger on a ship to which that Act applies is defined to be "a native of Asia or Africa of the age of twelve years or upwards, who is not on the articles of the ship as one of the crew," but the term does not include either a passenger in attendance on a person other than a native of Asia or Africa, or a child under one year of age, and in the computation of passengers for any of the purposes of the Act, two persons of the age of one year or upwards and under the age of 12 are reckoned as one passenger. The Act does not apply to any steam-ship not carrying as passengers more than 60 natives of Asia or Africa (or any less number down to 30 which may be fixed by the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, as the minimum). In accordance with the terms of the Convention every individual, of whatever age, will be reckoned as a pilgrim in the proposed Bill, the provisions of which will be made applicable to all vessels carrying pilgrims, subject to the proviso that no vessel is to be reckoned as a pilgrim ship which, besides its ordinary passengers, among whom may be included pilgrims of the superior classes, embarks pilgrims of the lowest class in a smaller proportion than one pilgrim to 100 gross tonnage.

The object of the Conference, in extending the scope of the regulations to vessels to which they do not now apply, was to prevent pilgrims from being carried in ill-found craft, the sanitary arrangements on which might be insufficient or incomplete.

(ii) Notice of sailing.

By section 7 (ii) of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, the master, owner, or agent of a ship is required to give not less than 24 hours' notice of his intention to sail. The Conference determined that in the case of a pilgrim ship the interval should be extended to three days, and the Bill will contain a provision modified accordingly.

(iii) The upper deck.

The Convention provides that the deck must, during the voyage, remain clear of all encumbering articles and be reserved day and night for the persons embarked, and placed gratuitously at their disposal.

A provision to this effect will be embodied in the Bill.

(iv) Hospital accommodation.

The Conference determined that there should be hospital accommodation for 5 per cent. of the pilgrims at 3 square metres (32 square feet) per head. This is considerably in excess of the present allowance. The necessary provision will be included in the Bill.

(v) Medical inspection previous to embarkation.

The Conference attached considerable importance to this matter. In addressing the Local Maritime Governments on the subject in October last, the Government of India expressed their opinion that the practice of allowing pilgrims to go on board before inspection is open to serious objection, as it opens the way to the introduction on board a pilgrim vessel of infectious or contagious diseases by persons suffering from them. The Local Governments agree in this view, though there are some practical difficulties which will have to be met. Provision will accordingly be made in the Bill in order to give effect to the decisions of the Conference that the medical examination should take place on land immediately before embarkation, and that articles contaminated by persons who have suffered from cholera or choleraic diarrhoea should not be taken on board until disinfected, nor persons suffering from those diseases permitted to embark.

(vi) Sanitary taxes at Camaran and Jeddah.

It is provided in the Convention that the Master of a pilgrim vessel must pay the whole amount of the sanitary taxes at the ports visited, and it is suggested that the amount of them might be included in the price of the ticket. The Bill will contain a provision requiring the Master to pay these fees.

This decision was adopted by the Conference because of complaints made by the Turkish authorities that Indian pilgrims often fail to pay any fees at all, and the members of the Conference felt that, unless help is given to the local authorities in realizing the proper fees, it will be less easy to press for the carrying out of local sanitary reforms the cost of which is, or should be, partly defrayable from the fees collected from pilgrims.

It is necessary here to explain that the immediate adoption of this provision presents difficulties, owing to the fact that the Turkish Government did not agree to the conditions on which the retention of Camaran as a quarantine station was assented to by the British delegates at the Conference. Those conditions were that vessels should be subjected to differential treatment according as they were declared, after medical inspection, to be indemnes, suspects, or infectés. If of the first class, pilgrim ships were to be detained for 48 hours only at Camaran; if suspects they were to be detained 48 hours and to undergo a second medical inspection at Jeddah; and if infectés they were to be detained at Camaran for five days from arrival, or from the occurrence of the last case, and to undergo a second medical inspection at Jeddah.

The past practice has been for all pilgrims on vessels coming from Indian ports to be detained

Indemnes—are vessels on which no case of cholera has occurred either at the port of departure or on the voyage.

Suspects—are vessels on which there has been cholera but no fresh case within seven days before arrival at Camaran.

Infectés—are vessels on which fresh cases of cholera have occurred within seven days of arrival at Camaran.

for ten days on shore at Camaran; if cholera or choleraic diarrhoea exists on board or breaks out during quarantine, they are detained for longer periods. It is impossible for the Government of India to declare finally what sum will have to be added on account of sanitary dues to the cost of a ticket for the voyage to Jeddah; but according to the figures supplied by the Turkish Consul-General at Bombay, about Rs. 12-8 may be taken to be the present minimum cost per pilgrim in respect of the sanitary taxes for a stay of ten days at Camaran, besides a charge of nearly Rs. 2 at Jeddah.

As the Turkish delegates at the Paris Conference announced that they would agree to the abolition of the requirement that every ship from India should be detained for ten days if the periods of detention proposed, as mentioned above, were raised to three days for indemnes, five days for suspects, and ten days for infectés, the Government of India have requested Her Majesty's Government to address the Porte with the suggestion that the rules which the Turkish delegates were prepared to accept may be adopted for the future. If this is effected, there will be a very considerable reduction in the amount of the sanitary taxes to be paid for with the price of the steamer ticket.

The Government of India, recognizing that a rigid rule requiring the prepayment of sanitary dues by every pilgrim may operate with hardship in the case of poor pilgrims, who, it appears from the reports of the Turkish authorities, are at present excused the sanitary fees when they are unable to pay them, have decided to suggest for the consideration of the Porte that ready needy pilgrims might be excused from payment of the sanitary taxes in addition to the steamer fare if they are granted passes signed by a District Officer or Political Officer on the advice of respectable Muhammadan residents of the neighbourhood in which they live, and countersigned by a Turkish Consul in India certifying that their pecuniary position justifies their exemption. It appears to the Governor-General in Council that such a measure would afford effectual relief in the case of poor Muhammadans resident in India, and His Excellency in Council trusts that it may be found possible to carry it into effect.

(vii) A second medical officer on board.

The Convention requires every vessel embarking 100 pilgrims or more to have on board a duly qualified medical officer, and a second such officer when the number of pilgrims exceeds 1,000. The first provision is in accordance with the present law; but though under the provision for the increase of space for each pilgrim (see paragraph 3 (a) below) it is unlikely that many steamers will carry more than 1,000 pilgrims, it is necessary to give effect to the Convention in this respect. This requirement will be entered in the Bill. The qualifications which these medical officers must possess will be set forth in the rules.

(viii) Abandonment of the call at Aden on the journey from the Red Sea to India.

The Government of India, with the acquiescence of the Government of Bombay, have decided that the present compulsory call at Aden on the return journey to India is unnecessary and inconvenient in many cases. The Bill which is about to be introduced will contain the requisite provision which is not necessary to carry out the terms of the Convention, but it is in no way opposed thereto. The present requirement that every pilgrim ship from India must call at Aden, and shall not leave that port for the Red Sea without a clean bill of health, will be retained.

3. The chief points in the existing rules under the Native Passenger Ships Act, in respect of which changes have been rendered necessary by the terms of the Convention, are the following:—

(a) Increase in the space for each pilgrim.

This is the most important point in the Convention, as it will involve a considerable increase in the cost of the journey by steamer. As the law stands (section 21 of Act X of 1887), the allowance in the between decks for a steamer passenger on a long voyage (of 5 days or over) is a space of at least 9 superficial and 54 cubic feet; two children under 12 years of age, and not under one, counting as one pilgrim, and children under the age of one year not counting. By section 56 of the Act, the Governor-General in Council has power to prescribe in the case of any class of ships other provisions as regards superficial or cubic space to be available for passengers.

The Convention provides for two square metres (21½ square feet) for each pilgrim of whatever age. This is one of the points upon which the British Government made a reservation. Her Majesty's Government has, however, intimated to the French Government that a minimum standard of 1½ square metres (16 square feet) for every pilgrim of whatever age will be prescribed on all Indian pilgrim ships, and the Bill will be drawn in such a manner as to enable the Governor-General in Council to give effect thereto. This decision was arrived at as some increase of space was dictated by the best sanitary authorities and by the voice of all the European Powers, including the Porte, who are interested in the matter, though it is recognized that the additional space will cause increase in the cost of steamer tickets to the pilgrims.

(b) Water.

In accordance with the Convention, the allowance of a gallon of drinking water a day will be made for every pilgrim of whatever age, instead of to each pilgrim of 12 years of age and over (children not over 12 years, but not under one, counting as one pilgrim, and children under one year of age not counting at all) as under the present rule.

(c) Disinfecting stove.

The new rules will provide for a disinfecting stove on board ship to purify the clothes and effects of pilgrims who have suffered from cholera or choleraic diarrhoea. Provisions will also be made regarding the method of disinfecting.

(d) Latrines.

The Government of India will take this opportunity to raise the number of seats from the rate of two to that of four for every hundred pilgrims, in accordance with the recommendation of the Committee which enquired into the working of the Native Passenger Ships Act in 1890. Provision will also be made for a staff of sweepers at the rate of two for every hundred pilgrims. Further provisions will be added for the better cleansing and disinfecting of the latrines.

(e) Pilgrims' luggage.

The Convention provides that pilgrims' heavy luggage must be registered, numbered and deposited in the hold, and that pilgrims are to be allowed to keep with them only such articles as are absolutely necessary (not to exceed a maund in weight for each pilgrim). A rule will be framed to carry this provision into effect.

(f) Daily medical inspection on board.

One of the terms of the Convention requires that when there are cases of cholera in port, pilgrims shall not be embarked until after they have been collected and subjected for five days to an observation which will admit of an assurance that none of them are affected with cholera. It was, however, agreed, on the representation of the British delegates, that this observation could be practised on board ship between the time of departure from India and the call at Aden. A rule will be framed to provide for this.

(g) Second medical inspection before departure from India.

A reference was made to the Local Governments on a suggestion put forward by Her Majesty's Secretary of State as to the desirability of adding a second medical inspection of pilgrims on board just before a steamer weighs anchor. The Governor-General in Council proposes to make a rule to the effect that in cases where a pilgrim ship may be detained in harbour for more than 48 hours after the embarkation of the pilgrims, and there is reason to suspect that small-pox, cholera, yellow fever or plague may have attacked some of the pilgrims, a second medical inspection shall be made by a competent medical officer.

4. The reservations made by Her Majesty's Government from the terms of the Convention were, as noticed above, upon three points. One of these as regards space has already been mentioned in paragraph 3 (a) supra. The second reservation was regarding arrangements in the Persian Gulf, and does not call for notice here. The third was as to a provision of the Convention requiring that all pilgrims must have ample funds in their possession before they are allowed to embark. The British Government, acting on the previously declared views of the Government of India, who have always desired to facilitate the pilgrimage to the Hedjaz as much as possible, felt that this restriction upon the religious liberty of Muhammadan subjects of Her Majesty was not justifiable, and declined to accede to it.

5. It will be observed that the changes in the regulation of the pilgrim traffic between India and Arabia which are necessitated by the Paris Convention made between the chief European Powers have for their object the amelioration of the conditions under which Muhammadans perform their journey to and from the Hedjaz. At the same time it is fully recognized both by Her Majesty's Government and by the Government of India that some of these changes, especially that as regards space, will add very materially to the cost of the sea voyage. The Governor-General in Council is therefore glad to be able to intimate that the British Government have undertaken to lose no opportunity of pressing upon the Turkish Government—and, if requested, they will lend skilled officers to assist His Majesty the Sultan's Government in fulfilling—the duty of remedying the condition of affairs at Camaran in the manner indicated by the Paris Convention, and of improving the sanitary administration at Jeddah and Mecca in the way proposed by the Sanitary Council of Constantinople and the able officers who have from time to time reported to the Porte on the requirements of the situation. The Governor-General in Council also wishes to assure the Muhammadan community that he is most anxious, whilst taking measures to bring about improvements in the conditions of both the sea and the land journeys to Mecca, to impose no additional expense of an unnecessary nature, and he is also not without hope that it may be found possible to induce the Turkish Government to lessen the time for which Indian pilgrims are placed in quarantine at Camaran, and thereby to reduce the sanitary taxes which will have to be recovered from pilgrims, and also to exempt really needy pilgrims from payment of these dues.

6. It is proposed that the provisions of the Bill and the new rules shall come into force on the 1st October 1895, so as to apply to the pilgrimage which will take place in the spring of 1896. Local Governments and Administrations are requested to make the contents of this Resolution generally known as soon as possible.
